GEORGE UNDERWOOD
of Piscataway, Prince George's Co., Maryland and Monangalia (Marion) Co., (W) Virginia
His Ancestors and His Descendants

by Paula Underwood Spencer

20 January - 19 April 1986

The basic resources for this working paper are "The Underwood Families of America" by Lucian Marcus Underwood, 1913, and individual research on various Underwood lines by this author and by Meredith Hale, Billie Redding Lewis, Kathi Underwood Olson, Elmo Underwood, and Bruce Underwood. Both copies of correspondence and results of research are in my possession. The section of the Underwood book (UFA) on my George Underwood (UFA #976, p. 520) should be given great respect, as it was my grandfather's sister who compiled the information, which she then submitted to Lucian Underwood. Nonetheless, conclusions drawn should always be considered tentative, as there is always more data out there somewhere to be found.

I have not undertaken an exhaustive search of Underwoods arriving in the Colonies, but rather have focused on augmenting what was gathered for UFA and by the researchers above. My George Underwood is unquestionably the one found in Piscataway in the 1790s. UFA says his parents were Jesse and Lavinia (___?___) Underwood. UFA also says that the two principal early arrivals into Maryland were Anthony Underwood, a lawyer, St. Mary's Co. and Thomas Underwood, a poor man, Ann Arundel Co.

It seems to me clear that we are not descended from Anthony, as the cultural group represented by someone named Anthony who is accepted at the Inns at Court in London and therefore becomes a lawyer (the only way it could be done) does not seem to me to match the family, which has consistently been well-educated, but definitely middle class and with much more traditional English first names. Also, the family tradition recounted in UFA that George was born on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, where his father Jesse had settled, does not match the St. Mary's Co. location for Anthony and his sons, Thomas and Anthony. Though a Charles Underwood found later in this county probably does descend from that line.

Bruce Underwood has traced the family of Thomas Underwood, finding one son named Samuel and two daughters named Elizabeth and Sara. There may have been more children as Thomas is cited in 1658 as a "poor man with several children". Three does not seem several. This Thomas seems to arrive with a friend, Thomas Meeres, who leads a group from Virginia in 1650 (the year Thomas arrived in Maryland) to settle in the Annapolis area. Thomas is later found (1664) buying land in that same area. (See chronology.)

This Thomas may have had only one son, but -- if so -- he is nearly unique in the Underwood family! This tribe seems to beget a multitude of sons . . and daughters. It may be instead that the John Underwood who appears in Talbot Co. records by 1676 is an older son of Thomas. The Chesapeake Bay was, to some extent, settled working from the tip of St. Mary's Co. north toward Annapolis, then Baltimore, then Harford Co. and from thence south along Maryland's Eastern Shore. This eastern part of Maryland was being initially settled during the 1670's. Perhaps John, now grown, settled in Talbot, his father's land in Ann Arundel Co. going, therefore, to Thomas' younger son, Samuel, who was a minor at the time of his father's death.

On the other hand, perhaps this John also migrated from Virginia or was the John Underwood brought over by Henry Trip of Dorchester Co. previous to 29 Jan 1669. If so, family naming patterns are so similar that they are probably related at some point. My father described our original Underwood immigrants as "poor as church mice", but the emphasis was on their "coming over", not on their being brought over.

There is a John Underwood listed among the taxables in Baltimore (later Harford) Co. in 1692, 1694, and 1695. He is likely to be the progenitor of the Gunpowder River Underwoods, who were mainly Quaker. Then on 4 March 1695 this John requests letters of administration for his wife's first husband, she being the widow of Henry Wollen. Copies of these legal transactions have been sent for.

There is also a John Underwood recorded in Calvert Co. will records in 1698 and 1700, with his wife, Margaret, and daughter, Sarah. Sarah receives a bequest from Jeremiah Eldridge and John and Margaret are testators for John Elsey. Perhaps John of Baltimore Co. moved or perhaps this is another John.

Bruce Underwood cites the years 1682-1692 as the approximate time for the births of the sons of Samuel, s/o Thomas Underwood. In this Samuel's will no John Underwood is shown, nor is a John Underwood found in the New Castle Co., Delaware records along with Samuel and his sons. Later, Samuel, s/o Samuel, is given a letter from the Gunpowder MM, Baltimore Co., to visit relatives and acquaintances in Pennsylvania, but he dies shortly after in 1746, apparently without making the trip. Samuel's ties to this area seem strong, yet John is the first Underwood recorded there. It seems to me quite possible that the John Underwood who dies in Talbot County by 1676 is an elder son of Thomas of Ann Arundel Co. If not, he seems clearly related in some way. The John Underwood found in Baltimore

Co. by 1692 may well be his son and Samuel, s/o Samuel, nephew to the elder John and cousin to the younger.

Finally, Billie Redding Lewis cites a tradition in Virginia Underwood families related to her to the effect that their Underwoods went from Virginia to Delaware then returned to Virginia. This family, too, has names Samuel, Thomas, William, and Jesse. Billie cites William, Samuel, and Joseph -- thought to be sons of a William Underwood -- who moved from Delaware to Virginia after 1722. Maryland is not mentioned in this tradition.

In 1678 a Samuel Underwood witnesses the will of John Webb in Talbot Co. Perhaps this is the same Samuel who was son of the first Thomas, who was apparently an orphan by 1674 and who received warrants for land in Ann Arundel Co. beginning in 1682. Perhaps he came to clear his brother's estate. Or perhaps the Samuel in this Talbot Co. record was another Samuel, son of the John who died in 1676, after settling on the Wye River. (The Wye River is on the Eastern shore of Kent Island, the first area settled in Talbot. Both are exactly East of Annapolis on the other side of the Chesapeake Bay.) A search of Talbot Co. land records might clarify this point.

In any event, the Samuel who is clearly the son of Thomas of Ann Arundel Co. sells land near Annapolis and moves to the Christiana Hundred by 1693. (The same time John Underwood appears in Baltimore, later Harford, Co. tax records.) He and most of his children seem settled there for some time. He is buried in the Welch Tract Baptist Church cemetary there. His sons are named in his 1722 will: Benjamin, Joseph, Samuel (the eldest), Alexander (a Quaker minister of Pa.), and Thomas. Descendants of some are well documented, but Joseph and Thomas are not (though a Thomas is baptised in the Welch Tract Baptist Church in 1743, probably this Thomas), leaving them the most probable antecedants -- other than the John mentioned above -- for George of Piscataway. No son William is named, but Samuel has grandsons named William. Jesse Underwood, father of George, would have been contemporary with the grandsons of Samuel, s/o Thomas.

(Note: William, s/o Samuel m. 1757 Center MM, New Castle, Delaware, Elizabeth Dixon, d/o William. There are many Dixons in the western shore/Potomac Maryland counties. It would be tempting to conclude that the William of Piscataway cited below is a son of this William. However, 1768 is too soon for the son of someone married in 1757 to be having children of his own. Perhaps William of Piscataway is a son of John of Baltimore Co.)

The Talbot Co. connection should be explored, especially since it seems to me more probable that the John recorded here was our connection to the Eastern Shore.

Although Christiana is not far, it is in Delaware and is not called the Eastern Shore. Moreover, Owens and Downes families are found on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, underscoring this connection (see below).

Jesse Underwood, father of our George, is reported as settling on that Eastern Shore (UFA). He marries Lavinia __?__ and has children: at least George, Jesse, John, Elizabeth, and Nancy. He is described in UFA as moving to Frederick Co. in Western Maryland and "is believed to have died there. Little further is known of him; he is said to have had brothers, John and Levi, who were said to have been tories during the time of the Revolution."

Research in Frederick County has revealed little. No record of Underwoods before the 1840s has yet been found. However in 1843 Thomas Underwood of Frederick County, Md., sold out his property including household goods, tools, turning lathe, etc.; and in 1844 a William Underwood sells the local newspaper and moves to Baltimore and then to Carlysle, Pennsylvania. Perhaps these were later sons or grandsons of Jesse.

Perhaps the Westward migration of Jesse, son of Jesse, can be found in Somerset, Washington Co., Pa. where a Jesse and wife Mary owned land from 1809-1812. Correspondence with a descendant on this line says that Jesse's son, William, sold and moved to Ohio. A William Underwood and his wife, Hanna Aller, are found selling land in Somerset, Washington Co., Pa. in 1838.

Piscataway Parish records in Prince George's Co., Maryland, show Underwood citations in 1768 (Josias, s/o William and Charety, baptised), 1773 (Tracy, d/o John and Mary, born), 1789 (Elizabeth m. John Downs), and 1794 (Henry Martin, s/o George and Mary, baptised). The 1790 census for Maryland shows Charety (by now probably a widow) with 3 other females, George with wife and young son, and Thomas Underwood -a single male with one slave - all in Prince George's County. Also in Prince George's County are William Owens, a male with four females, and three Downs families -- including John with a wife and small son. These families seem clearly connected. UFA assumes this Thomas is a s/o William and Charety and that he is the same Thomas who continues to appear in Piscataway records, along with his descendants.

Elizabeth Underwood is George's sister. UFA says Elizabeth m. William Owens. Piscataway parish records show her marriage to John Downs. UFA says that their sister, Nancy Underwood, m. Robert Downs. At first I thought that William Owens might have been a second husband, or this a different Elizabeth. However, family naming traditions incline me otherwise.

George and Mary (Martin) Underwood named their first son William Owens Underwood. He was born in Martinsburg, Va. in 1790. Their second child, a son, was named Henry Martin Underwood and was born in 1792. Since this son must have been named after Mary Martin's father, Henry Martin, it seems very probable that they would have named their first son similarly, perhaps after the father of Lavinia? Perhaps the Lavinia who married Jesse Underwood was the daughter of William Owens. Owens is certainly a family name often found with Underwood, and indeed the 1790 census shows a William Owens with four females in Prince George's Co. The name is Welch (meaning son of Owen). Some of the children of Samuel of Ann Arundel Co. married Welch spouses (e.g., Harrys) and Samuel settled in to the Welch Baptist Tract Church in Christiana. Owens families are found in Cecil and Somerset Counties on the Eastern shore and in Calvert County near Prince George's. Downes are found in Caroline County, which was formed from the part of Talbot Co. nearest Delaware (Sussex County in Delaware). New Castle County, Delaware is due east of Kent and Cecil Counties, Christiana being due east of Farmington, Cecil Co.

Except for their fourth son, David Fendell Underwood, George and Mary Underwood's other sons have only a first name: John and Thomas. I am inclined to assume these two are named after Underwood antecedents and may even describe Jesse's descent, which may well be Jesse-3, John-2, Thomas-1. The name David Fendell also deserves a thorough check. Perhaps he, also, was an ancestor on one female line. The 1790 census of Maryland shows no David Fendell. It does show a Benjamin and a Samuel Fendall in Charles Co. and John Fendall in Kent Co.. Kent Co. is on the Eastern Shore and Charles just below Piscataway.

From the Piscataway area George and Mary (Martin) Underwood move back to the (W) Virginia area, settling in a part of Monangalia Co. near Farmington which later becomes Marion Co., (W)Va. Her father, Henry Martin, died in Monangalia Co. in 1822 naming Mary Underwood as one of his heirs. I assume she was his daughter and that the other heirs were his other children.

It is quite possible that this Henry Martin descends from Martins in southern Virginia, although Martins are also found on the Eastern shore. The patriarch of the Virginia family probably was Henry Martin. It is probably his sons William, John, and Martin Martin, who were ordered to help clear roads in 1698 along with Harrises and another of my ancestors, Jarrat (Gerrard) Robert Ellison (Ellyson). Gerrard Robert Ellison (Quaker) and James Harris are my ancestors on my Elmore line, from which Cecilia Elmore (Quaker) descends, and came into New Kent Co., Va. about the same time as the Elmores, 1654. Cecilia Elmore Hayworth's granddaughter, Mary E. Haworth (Quaker), married Silas Dinsmore Underwood in Vermilion Co., Illinoios. One of their children, Oliver Perry Underwood, is my grandfather.

I am making two points here. Both that a number of these families were surely eachother's fellow travellers and -- although my Underwoods were never Quaker, as Alexander Underwood and many of his descendants were -- they were always comfortable with Quakers, both living near and marrying them.

In a working paper -- "The Elmores of St. Peter's Parish and some Associated Families" -- from which this Virginia Martin information is taken, William E. Elmore traces these Martins from New Kent Co. through Henrico, Lunenburg, and Brunswick Co.; where William Martin names in his will in 1762 his sons William, Abraham, and Henry. In 1794 a Henry Martin witnesses a sale by William Elmore to his brother James in Charlotte Co., Va. This Henry should be researched to learn whether he might be the father of Mary Martin who married in 1789 in Martinsburg. According to Berkeley County (W)Va. history, the Martins of Martinsburg were from Southside Virginia. The town was named after the last owner of the land before subdividing, Col. T.B. Martin.

Further research on the Martin line should focus on Martinsburgh records -- especially land records -- to learn which Martins were there in 1789 and on the Henry Martin of Charlotte Co., Va. In Talbot Co., Md. Henry and William Martin are born to Philip and Phebe Martin in 1741 and 1745, respectively. This Henry may well have migrated to Martinsburg. Most Shanandoah Valley settlers came in through Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Further research on the Underwood line should focus on Eastern Shore records -- especially land records in Talbot Co. and Queen Anne's Co., which was taken from Talbot -- to further identify the John and Samuel Underwood found there in the 1670s. The Henry Martin born in Talbot County in 1741 should also be traced.

CARTER - UNDERWOOD

I'm hoping that having a Carter in the White House will bring out everyone who ever had a Carter ancestor. I've been trying to find this one for ten years!

Daniel Underwood was born ca 1800 poss. in Elbert Co. Ga. - Died in 1846 in Greene Co. Ga. - His son George Carter Underwood was born Dec. 28, 1831 in Siloam (Greene Co. Ga.) It is possible that Daniel Underwood's mother or 1st wife was a Carter, For he married, I assume for the 2nd time Aug. 17, 1832 in Greene Co., to Nancy Fillingame less than 8 months after his son was born. That's a little late for marrying the mother.

I also need Daniel Underwood's parents + grandparents.

Can anyone help!

Family puzzler:
Please put the following queries in your Mag. as you have time.

1. Need information on the families of LAWTON and HAYS Spartanburg Co. S.C. about 1795 on.

2. Samuel Underwood m: the daughter of John LEECH Sr. Who D: Spartanburg Co. S.C. in: 1802
He was not the son, to my Knowledge, of the Underwoods of Spartanburg. Was he the son of George who D: 1840 in Greenville, S.C.?
By deed: John Leech Sr had ch: David, John Jr., William, James, Sarah, Joseph and 3 daughters who, in 1802, were married to John Vaughn, Samuel Underwood and Lemuel Loftis.

3. Wish correspondence with Hammetts of S.C. and GA.

Here is a tip for the person checking on Nimrod Jones. The Underwood family of Spartanburg Co. S.C. use the name Nimrod Jones. They came to S.C. after the Rev. War from Fauquier & Culpepper Co. Va. Before that they had ties in King George Co. Va. & Stafford Co.
On the Wright family. I understand Joseph LEE Wright D: 1760 Farq. Had a daughter m: Thomas Jackman D: 1776 Farq. whose daughter is said to have m: John Underwood to Surry Co N.C. whose daughter to Spart. Co. S.C.

William H. b 4-4-1843 never m. died 9-22-1870.

John J. and his wife are buried in the Jasper (Florida) town cemetery-- he died in Jasper 11-3-1864.

John J. left many records in Irwin and Lowndes County, Georgia.

It would appear this William H is not the same as your William Hosea but you may want to pursue the Underwood family of the three counties mentioned.

Dear Miss Warren,

Just subscribed to Family Puzzlers, and received all my 1969 back copies. Don't know when I've had more fun! It's better than reading all the top ten best sellers at once, and can't wait to get my own Queries in. Here we go -

(1) My grandmoaher was Sarah Underwood ~~of Siloam, Ga.~~ - Dau. of George Carter Underwood 1831-1894 & Mary Ann Veazey 1836-1903, of Siloam Ga. Who were parents, gr.p, etc. of G.C.Underwood ? The 1850 Census of Greene Co, Ga. shows a Daniel Underwood who seems to be the right age. Greene Co. marriage records show Daniel Underwood m. Nancy-Fillingame in 1832. That seems alittle late, but he's all I have.

(2) The other side of the coin is Mary Ann Veazey 1836-1903, wf. of G.C.Underwood. She was the daughter ofJesse Veazey,Jr, ~~and~~ 1799-1842 m-1823 Greene Co. Ga. Sarah Akins 1805-1891. Who were her parents and gr.par. etc ? I'm ~~sure~~ almost positive her gr.father was James Akins, Rev. Sold. (James Akins and James Veazey, gr.f. of Jesse Veazey,Jr., were both from Cecil Co. Md. and came to Ga. about the same time.)

(3) Same line-Parents of Jesse Veazey,Jr. were Jesse Veazey,Sr. 1762-1813 and Sarah Peek (no dates) Who were her parents ? etc. Was her father John Peek, Rev. Sold. of Greene Co. ?

If anyone has Veazey, Underwood, Akins, Peek, Hollingsworth books to sell, or to have photostated for me - or maps showing where they lived- anything - please write. Will also exchange any info I have.

Thank you,
Sincerely,

Dear Sirs:

Inclosed find check for $8.00 for which please send me oneyears' subscription to Family Puzzlers.

I would like to submit a query:

My father, William L. Underwood was born at Woodbury, Georgia 1881 died in Chambers County, Ala. 1967. His father was John Davis Underwood of Meriwether County, Ga. John Davis was the son of James Russell Underwood born in Sumter County, Ga. and died in Meriwether Co., Ga. James Russell married Nancy E. Poe at Americus, Ga. Nov. 29, 1860. The father of James Russell was John Underwood of Sumter Co., Ga. who married Elizabeth? Their children from census records were:

1850 Census Sumter County, Georgia

		Age
Underwood,	John	66
"	Elizabeth	44
	Sartona	21
	Pricilla	19
	William	15
	John	12
	Joseph	9
	James Russell	8
	Eleanor	6	(Aunt Nelly)

Where did John and Elizabeth come from to Sumter Co., Ga? From 1805 Land Lottery of Georgia shows a John Underwood in Washington County, Ga. Do you have anything on census records of Washington County at that time?

My Underwood family supposedly were in Va. before coming to Ga. Does anyone know of this family. The Poe' family were close to our Underwoods. James Russell's brother married a sister to Nancy E. Was John a Rev. sol?

Will someone help me with this please?

June 7, 1971

Dear Mrs. Warren,

Through my ad in Family Puzzlers I have been fortunate enough to find Lt. Col. Luther R. Underwood of Macon, Ga. who has been assisting me in my search of my Underwoods.

I found my Great Grandfather James Russell Underwood's grave in the Old Pinestraw Cemetery in Woodbury, Ga. He was born in Sumter Co., Ga. June 26, 1841 died May 14, 1898 - was Civil War veteran - I have his records. His wife Nancy E. Pal, born March 18, 1844, died Dec. 6, 1908. They were married in Sumter Co. The youngest child Eleanor (Aunt Nelly, never married) is buried on the left of James Russell. she born Mar. 18, 1844, died Dec. 6, 1908.

James Russell's father was John Underwood, born 1783/84 in N.C. (I think Northampton Co.) married Elizabeth ? . This query had in Family Puzzlers - with names of all of their children in Sumter Co.

The Col. has been so very nice in helping me - He wrote that John played a prominent part in Rickland Baptist Church of Twiggs Co., Ga. John joined Rickland Baptist Church in 1830 and wife, Elizabeth, joined in 1832. John Underwood is mentioned under Names of Ministers in the Church records who have preached at Rickland. Do you have any other records of this Church? From census records I have an idea John had a previous marriage and have been trying to find the marriage record of John U- and Elizabeth?

Wm L. Underwood

My father played a prominent part in his Church. Was Chairman of the Board of Stewards for 35 years or more and directed the singing all these years at all services. A special day was held for him one Sunday, old friends, previous pastors, etc. came for the occasion and dinner was spread. He was presented a gold plaque in appreciation for his services through the years. In his billfold he had a list of all the pastors who had preached at our Church.

Before he died in 1967 at age 85 years, I had begun looking for his ancestors and had found John and Elizabeth in Sumter Co. My father told me they came from Sumter, but he didn't know too much because his mother died when he was three years of age and he was raised by his Taylor aunts in Meriwether County. John Underwood of Sumter Co. was in War of 1812 enlisting in Laurens Co. I have thirteen Xerox copies from Washington, D.C. of his record applying for land grant.

The records were burned in Twiggs County, as you know, but I was wondering if you may have some marriage records of Twiggs around 1828-29-30 - from any Church or from Richland.

Jim Edwards wrote me again. He did not write Mrs. Melzer, because I called her and she said she had not had a letter from him. She has the Wise records. She is busy at the present time - end of quarter at Auburn and I know she must be, but she did tell me as soon as school is out at Auburn University and she has time to get her material together and in order, she will get the Wise material to me or to Jim. She did say that she has record of John Johnson Wise of which Jim is interested. I'm sorry I don't have more Wise data. That family is on my husband's side of the family. We have the McClendon line back to Scotland. I sent Jim what we have on the Wises. Some are buried near Dudleyville, Ala. which is about two miles from the old McClendon farm. Abram McClendon and Sara Wise are buried in Harmony cemetery adjoining property of the McClendon farm. Harmony Cemetery is a large one and an old, old one. Senator Claude Pepper of Florida is descended from the Talberts of this family. In fact, when he was visiting us one time, he showed us the well where he made up his mind that he wanted to become a U.S. Senator. He has a brilliant mind, tutored students at the University of Alabama to help pay college expenses.

I realize you are a very busy person and do not have time to be worried with someone like me, but I shall be glad to pay for any information you may know about Twiggs County. I have seen the history of the County, but it does not do justice, just as the book on Sumter County. I have the one on Sumter. As I wrote you previously, I have bought so many books without finding anything and LaFayette is a small town. I have to go to Atlanta to read census records and they do not have the ones I am usually looking for.

I shall be glad to check anything in Chambers County since I live in the county seat.

Need help on the UNDERWOOD family of Barren Co, Kentucky. David Underwood, born in 1827 in Kentucky, lived in Barren Co. He is in the 1850 census, newly married and without children. Other Underwood heads of family in 1850 are Elijah and Mary. The 1840 census shows the only Underwood to be Anderson Underwood, with a large family, of whom I feel sure David is a part. Since Anderson is not there in 1850, he must have died, but the court do not have a will for him. The 1830 census shows only Anderson Underwood, but in 1820 the only Underwood in Barren Co is Joseph Rogers Underwood, who was the State Senator for several years. By 1830, he is in Warren Co, next door to Barren. The family of Joseph Rogers Underwood is that listed in THE UNDERWOOD FAMILIES OF AMERICA, by Lucien Marcus Underwood, as living in Goochland Co, Va. In this county is a marriage record of Thomas Underwood and Elizabeth Anderson, who could be the parents of Anderson Underwood. I can find no proof of this.

To further make me think these families must be connected, my David Underwood named a child Joseph, and another Lucen Vic. Joseph Rogers Underwood named a child Lucian, and the above named book was written by Lucien M. Underwood.

Many of the descendents of the Underwoods in Goochland Co, Va lived in Barren and Warren Co, Kentucky, but I cannot tie my David in with any of them. Won't someone please help me?
